The highly effective product is based on our proven natural oil derivative technology

As active ingredients coconut acids, fruit acids and natural oils are used. The product does not contain conventional synthetic compounds such as malathion or permethrins.

- highly effective against fleas and lice
- protects against re-infestation
- based on natural ingredients
- suitable for children

The product can be used in case of acute pediculosis or as protection in case of risk of infestation. The lice and their eggs are eliminated effectively, if properly applied.
